Completing your 2020 tax return

Question 13 - Partnership and Trusts – Tax Return (supplementary section)

You should include at this question the Australian interest income amount and the other Australian taxable income amount of your distributions from the Trust (refer amount marked with Note 1 on your AMMA Statement). Collectively these amounts are referred to as “Share of net income from trusts, less capital gains, foreign income and franked distributions (Non-Primary Production)”.

Any TFN/ABN withholding tax deducted from your distributions from the Trust should also be included at this question (refer amount marked with Note 3 on your AMMA Statement).

Question 18 – Capital Gains – Tax Return (supplementary section)

Neither the Company nor the Trust earned or distributed any capital gains during the 2020 Tax Return period.

Question 20 – Foreign Source Income – Tax Return (supplementary section)

Neither the Company nor the Trust earned or distributed any foreign income, or any foreign income tax offset amounts during the 2020 Tax Return period.

Cost base of Waypoint REIT stapled securities

For capital gains tax purposes, a stapled security comprises two separate capital gains tax assets. Investors need to apportion the cost of each stapled security and the proceeds of sale of each stapled security between a unit in the Trust and a share in the Company. The apportionment is based on the relative market value of each asset at the time of acquisition and disposal. For information regarding the apportionment ratios between a unit in the Trust and a share in the Company, please refer to the Waypoint REIT website (waypointreit.com.au).

If you acquired your Waypoint REIT stapled securities through the Initial Public Offering please refer to the Prospectus/PDS dated 22 July 2016 located on our website (waypointreit.com.au) to determine the cost base and apportionment ratios between the Company and the Trust.

If you acquired Waypoint REIT stapled securities on market your total cost base will generally be the amount paid to acquire the securities, plus any incidental costs of acquisition. As noted above, this will need to be apportioned between a unit in the Trust and a share in the Company.

Capital gains tax (CGT) implications of the ‘AMIT cost base reduction amount’ of distributions

The ‘AMIT cost base reduction amount’ of distributions made by the Trust will reduce your cost base in the units of the Trust. This reduction will apply in calculating any capital gain or capital loss on disposal of the units for CGT purposes. In addition, you make a capital gain (even if you do not sell your stapled securities) if the sum of all of the AMIT cost base reduction amounts received (together with any previous tax deferred amounts) exceeds the cost base of the units at the end of the income year.

Please refer to your 2019 AMMA Statement for the 'AMIT cost base reduction amount' proportion of the 2020 distributions (refer to the amount marked with Note 2 on your AMMA Statement).

The publications "Guide to Capital Gains Tax" or "Personal Investor's Guide to Capital Gains Tax" which are available from the Australian Taxation Office (www.ato.gov.au) provide details of the calculations required.

Securityholders who have disposed of securities during the 2020 income year

If you have disposed of any of your Waypoint REIT stapled securities during the 2020 income year, you may have made a capital gain or loss. As noted above, you will need to calculate the capital gain or loss for both units in the Trust and shares in the Company, based on an apportionment between them.

You should obtain a copy of the publication "Personal Investor's Guide to Capital Gains Tax" or alternatively, "Guide to Capital Gains Tax" which are available from the Australian Taxation Office (www.ato.gov.au) and/or consult your accountant, taxation, or other professional adviser.

If you have further tax questions in relation to your investment in Waypoint REIT stapled securities, we recommend that you consult your accountant, taxation or other professional adviser.
